A YEAR OF IMPACT

In 2025, The Women's Center provided 11,110 hours of services to 18,149 community members through our programs, including the 24-Hour Hotline and community education efforts, an 11% increase in overall reach from 2024.

Across Waukesha County and the Greater Milwaukee Area, as well as communities throughout Wisconsin and beyond, we provided safety, shelter, advocacy, resources, and support to adults and children impacted by domestic abuse, sexual violence, child abuse, and trafficking.

Our wraparound, trauma-informed approach meets survivors where they are, protecting children, strengthening families, and supporting long-term safety and healing.

WHY IT MATTERS

Public Safety Impact
Early intervention, shelter, advocacy, and lethality assessments help address significant injury and homicide risk in crisis situations while providing longer-term safety planning resources. Our goal is to help victims lead lives free from violence and fear.

Stronger Systems, Lower Costs
Partnerships with law enforcement, hospitals, courts, and health and human services improve outcomes and efficiencies while reducing strain on public resources.

Protecting Children, Stabilizing Families
Children cannot thrive if they are living with violence and abuse. Our comprehensive approach aims to protect children while ensuring families have the tools to address and heal from trauma.

Growing Community Need
The rising complexity of cases and increased demand for services underscore the importance of sustained, reliable funding and support.

THE IMPACT CONTINUES

Every number represents a person who reached out, a child who received support, a family working toward stability, or a survivor taking steps toward greater safety and independence.

This work is made possible by the commitment of our community and the supporters who make safety, shelter, advocacy, and healing available at no cost to those we serve.

Thank you for making this impact possible.

FINANCIALS

The Women's Center takes our responsibility to practice sound fiscal management seriously. In partnership with the Board of Directors and Finance & Investment Committee, we thoughtfully develop our annual budget, review our financial performance throughout the year, and make informed decisions to ensure the organization's long-term sustainability.

Each year, an independent audit affirms our commitment to financial accountability and transparency. We are proud of our history of providing high-quality programming and services to all impacted by domestic abuse, sexual violence, child abuse, and human trafficking, while maintaining the highest standards of fiscal responsibility.

On-Call Advocates

We are deeply thankful to our dedicated On-Call Advocates, whose commitment keeps our Rape Crisis Response program available 24/7. These volunteers respond to calls for support on weekends and holidays. They provide emotional support to victims of sexual assault and domestic violence, help them understand their rights, and connect them with resources such as Crime Victim Compensation to recover medical expenses and Victim Information and Notification Everyday for updates on an offender's status.
